U.S. Border Security Council Legislative Team Readies for Immigration Battle on Capitol Hill

U.S. Border Security Council National Spokesman Steve LeBlanc exits the Longworth House Office Building during the August recess on Capitol Hill.

Immigration reform has once again pushed its way to the legislative forefront of Congress, thanks in part to the looming 2016 Presidential election.

“The President has some real problems on his hands,” states National Spokesman Steve LeBlanc. “The courts in America are dealing blow after blow to President Obama’s Executive overreach, and the American people are completely fed up with literally being treated as less important citizens than those here illegally.”

Full Court Press to Eliminate Sanctuary Cities!

Innocent American citizens are being gunned down in the streets of major U.S. cities, and the perpetrators are being protected by the very cities where these atrocities are occurring.

“The fact that so called “Sanctuary Cities” even exist is somewhat mind-boggling,” exclaims U.S. Border Security Council National Spokesman Steve LeBlanc. “When a city such as San Francisco, where the latest tragedy occurred, releases known

Incredibly, there are over 200 sanctuary cities in the United States that ignore federal law when it comes to prosecuting illegal immigrants, San Francisco is the most notorious.

Dear Patriotic Friend,

The Newsletter of the U.S. Border
Security Council

Donald Trump, whom we've all heard plenty from over the last few months, has re-stoked a fire on Capitol Hill regarding immigration reform and our need to protect our southern border.

But, Congress already passed a law in 2006 to construct a wall protecting our southern border from illegal aliens and potential terrorists. A wall that not only protects the citizens of America from potential danger, but also from future financial ruin. You see, the current administration seems hell-bent on granting amnesty to the 12 to 20 million undocumented, illegal aliens who currently hide in the shadows of society, hoping to avoid deportation.

That's where you come in. I am calling on all U.S. Border Security Council members and supporters to stay especially engaged in our national survey and petition drives. Your participation could very well be the final push needed to finally convince members of Congress to protect the citizens who pay their salaries. I know I can count on you.

Keep fighting for America,

SNEAK OF THE MONTH: State of California

The State of California is taking the lead in promoting President Obama's dream of Amnesty for the 12 to 20 million illegal aliens currently in America.

It started with in-state tuition for illegal aliens. Then came driver's licenses, new rules designed to limit deportations and state funded healthcare for children. Now, California is trying to appear even more sympathetic to those in this country illegally, by erasing the word “alien” from California's labor code. Experts have surmised that even though the Federal Govern-illegal aliens with felony rap-sheets ten yards long instead of turning them over to Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) agents, the blood of the victims is on their hands.”

The U.S. Border Security Council is currently gathering petitions from our 103,236 members and supporters calling on Congress to eliminate funding for all sanctuary cities. How much innocent American blood must be senselessly shed before Congress acts logically?

Although San Francisco, California, has been in the news recently for the atrocities committed there, sadly San Francisco is merely one of more than 200 sanctuary cities in the United States. The map above marks all sanctuary cities in the U.S.

ment does not acknowledge these law-breaking people as citizens of the United States, the various benefits, rights and protections add up to something of a form of "California citizenship."

For their efforts to give ILLEGAL ALIENS free rights and services for their law-breaking ways, the State of California is the U.S. Border Security Council's Sneak of the Month.

The U.S. Border Security Council has launched an all-out assault on the Federal Government's constant attempt to appease a massive number of law-breaking illegal aliens that liberal Congressmen and Senators continue to cater to as if they were constituents.

"Our members are adamant about not granting illegal aliens a free-pass on citizenship to this great country," explains LeBlanc. "I know for a fact that they will not stand by idly as President Obama tries to single handedly grant amnesty to approximately 20 million illegal aliens."

The U.S. Border Security Council legislative team readies for the immigration battle on Capitol Hill by preparing your signed petitions for delivery to Congress.
